

Say a poem – Frequently asked questions:

What is Say a poem?

Say a poem is developed by Ruth Miskin. It's for Nursery up to Year 3 in any school, whatever phonics programme you use.

There are over 100 short, memorable poems, each paired with an engaging five-minute film, with more poems added weekly. The poems and films are designed to help children build vocabulary, develop oracy and speak aloud with confidence.

What are the poems about?

The poems are:

- rooted in children's everyday experiences
- rich in language to build children's vocabulary
- playful to say to develop oracy.

Poems are grouped under eight headings:

- Feelings and wellbeing
- Fun and imagination
- Animals and beasts
- School and community
- Speech and language
- Nature and seasons
- Playing and exploring
- Moving and growing.

How do I teach Say a poem?

Each poem is brought to life in an engaging five-minute film.

In each film:

- actors and children encourage your children to participate and speak aloud
- children hear the poem first, then join in
- once familiar, children love joining in all the way through.

The films:

- fit easily into the school day
- encourage participation and speaking aloud
- help children feel "I can do it!"

Poems can be said in small groups with the whole class or whole school.

What age range are the poems for?

The poems are perfect for Nursery to Year 3.

They are available at different vocabulary levels, so you can choose the poems that best suit the children you are working with.

When should I teach Say a poem?

Poems can be used at any point in the school day, for example:

- from the minute children arrive
- to help children refocus
- to support forming friendships
- to explore feelings and wellbeing
- to bring calmness into the classroom
- right through to home time.

They are designed to slot easily into everyday routines.

How does Say a poem support oracy?

The poems are short, rich in language and playful to say, encouraging children to:

- speak aloud
- join in together
- build confidence through repetition.

Actors use My turn Your turn, encouraging children to join in. In each film, children will hear the poem six times and join in three times.

Subscription and billing:

Is the price inclusive of our Phonics Training Package?

Yes, Say a poem is included within the Phonics Training Package at no extra cost. If your school has an active Phonics Training Package, you can access the poems by clicking on 'Say a poem' along the search bar on the Ruth Miskin School Portal.

Can we subscribe to Say a Poem separately without an active Phonics Training Package?

Yes, if the school does not have an active Phonics Training Package, you can buy Say a poem separately. How to subscribe:

- To find out more information before subscribing, please fill out the 'Find out more' enquiry form on the website. A Training Coordinator will help you with your enquiries.
- To subscribe without further information, please fill out the 'Order a subscription' form on the website. A Training Coordinator will set up your access to Say a poem.

How much is the Say a poem subscription?

If the school does not have an active Phonics Training Package, the Say a poem subscription will cost £200+VAT each year.

When will I be billed?

The invoice will be sent to the billing email address provided upon booking within two working days of the subscription start date. You will have 30 days to pay.

What payment methods do you accept?

You can pay by bank transfer or by debit/credit card and details will be included on your invoice.

What happens if a payment fails?

As per our terms and conditions, unpaid invoices can lead to your access being temporarily suspended. If you're having any issues with payment, please let us know, we're happy to help.

Can I cancel my subscription and get a refund?

Payments are non-refundable and we do not provide refunds or credits for mid-year cancellation or unwatched content. To avoid any issues, please ensure you have the necessary permissions from your school before completing an order.

Will the subscription automatically renew and charge the school after a year?

The subscription doesn't automatically renew. You can renew in advance and avoid any interruption by emailing renewal@ruthmiskin.com.

Is a monthly subscription plan available?

The subscription is offered as a one-year plan, just like our other packages, making it easy to enjoy full access without worrying about monthly renewals.

I need a price quote so I can request a Purchase Order number, what do I do?

If you have the necessary permissions to purchase the subscription, you can complete an order form and tick the option to request a quote. Your order will be confirmed, but we will send you an official price quote the next working day.

If you need an official quote before completing an order form, please email us at accounts@ruthmiskin.com and we'll be happy to assist you.